This place seems very modern, perhaps like something you'd see in a swanky high-rise condo or townhouse near the city, right? BUT...

HERE'S THE INCREDIBLE PART!!...
This 1 bedroom loft apartment was built inside a 1940's grain silo.

It was renovated into this upscale unit after it was purchased and relocated to the grounds of the Gruene Homestead Inn in New Braunfels , TX in 2007.

If that's not creative craftsmanship, then I don't know what is!
I couldn't help but share this because it is so cool!
